

MAN ASSAULTED SATURDAY NIGHT

Henry Zimmerman Claims He Was Set Upon by Two Men in Court House Park.

SKULL FRACTURED

Says He Lay for Four Hours on the Ground, in an Unconscious Condition.

According to the statement of Henry Zimmerman he was assaulted by two men in the courthouse park Saturday night, badly beaten and left lying with a fractured skull from half past ten until two thirty Sunday morning in an insensible condition. It is a weird story to believe, but Mr. Zimmerman is today lying at his home on Wisconsin street in a precarious condition with a fractured skull to bear witness to his statement.

His Story Zimmerman, who is a powerfully built man, says he was going home from downtown about half past ten Saturday night alone. He stopped in crossing the park to light his pipe and while doing so was accosted by two men who made some remark about his being all in. He did not reply and the next thing he knew one of the men hit him with his fist over the left eye. A second later something hit him on the forehead, a shot he thought, and he went down and out.

Lay Unconscious According to his statement he must have laid there from half past ten until about two-thirty, when he managed to reach his home and awake his wife. She immediately went for Dr. Farnsworth who cared for the wounded man, and did what he could to alleviate his suffering.

Doctor's Opinion After hearing Zimmerman's statement and theory about the shot Dr. Farnsworth made a very careful examination, but found no evidence that he had been shot. He was more inclined to believe that he was hit by some heavy article which caused the fracture, which is just above the left eye. While dangerous, Dr. Farnsworth says it is not necessarily serious and today Zimmerman was resting easier.

Chief Hogan is scarcely able to account for the story of Zimmerman's lying unconscious in the park for the length of time he said he did, as many persons were passing through the park at that time and there were several other parties in the park he knew of until two o'clock, and they would surely have seen Zimmerman had he been there. From now on the chief will make the park his particular stamping ground at night. He will see that it is emptied at ten o'clock and that all girls and young boys start on their homeward way at that hour. He has also again warned the police officers of these rules and they will see that they are enforced.

Another Fight About two o'clock another fight occurred in the park which leads some to think that Zimmerman may have been mistaken in the hour he was hit. A well known dispenser of drinks was severely beaten and his face and neck cut open by a blow from a waist-key bottle wielded by one of his two assailants. The girl who was present claims she was choked by one of the men in this encounter.

GERMAN WHEAT CROP IS POOR

Over 1,150,000 Tons of Grain Will Be Needed From America.

Berlin, May 25.—The German wheat crop is one of the worst ever known and with the exception of 1901, when it was regarded as an utter failure, a larger importation of American wheat will be needed than ever before. Over 21 per cent of the fields will have to be replowed and of the rest the yield will be small and the grain of poor quality. It is estimated that at least 1,150,000 tons of wheat will be needed. The official report shows a worse condition than had been expected, but the produce exchange market was stagnant, on the theory that the news had been largely discounted and that there was yet a chance of improved conditions before harvest.

Incentive for Applause.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon made a speech in the house the other day and told the members how he was going to put in an item to build a $5,000,000 office building for them. Every statement he made was cheered and applauded by the Republicans. "Go it, boys!" shouted Representative Shattuck of Ohio. "The one making the most noise gets a chairmanship next year."

Munch Beer Houses Numerous.

A citizen of Munich has made a wager of $750 that he can visit all the beer houses in that town in one year, drinking a glass of beer in each. He started out to win his wager the first of this month. In each house he must drink something and must also get a receipt from the owner to show he has been there.

REVISION OF CREED IS BEFORE ASSEMBLY

Presbyterians Will Discuss the Question When It Comes Before Delegates on Thursday.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 25.—Business sessions of the Presbyterian assembly were resumed this morning. The indications are that there will be a contest before the week closes. Special overtures have gone to the committee on bills and overtures and these are construed by some to be of a bitter and personal nature. One of the overtures relates to creed revision and it is generally believed that it was sent in for the purpose of opening the question again and giving a chance for discussion on the floor of the assembly. The creed, as revised, is now practically a part of the law of the church. The question will be brought up Thursday on account of technicalities which have arisen and if the committee sees fit it may present the overture at that time. This would give the anti-revisionists another chance for a closing word.

AWFUL FIGHT IN THE EAST

Insurgents Pursued by the Turkish Forces, Take Stand in Small Village.

DYNAMITE IS USED

The Village Was Blown Up, and One Hundred and Fifty Dead Left in Ruins.

(Special By Scripps-McRae.) Vienna, May 25.—A dispatch from Salonica received today states that a force of insurgents who had taken refuge in the village of Sordreh with a large quantity of dynamite, had been attacked by a force of Turks and a fight followed.

A Fierce Contest The battle which followed the initial attack lasted for over thirty hours, during which time the greater portion of the village was destroyed by the dynamite and a fire started which totally destroyed the houses.

Many Dead After the battle was over and the fire was out the dead found in the ruins numbered over a hundred and fifty. It was one of the most stubborn engagements between the Turks and insurgents yet fought.

WEALTH UNBALANCES HIS MIND

Aged Farmer Loses His Reason When He Gets $10,000.

Hartford City, Ind., May 25.—A legacy of $10,000 received two months ago from Wales by Abednego Lewis, living one mile south of this city, has caused him to go insane. He is 70 years old. Mr. Lewis had been a hard-working farmer, and as soon as he had the money he began spending it in a way that caused people to doubt his reason. He spent $1,000 on a poor family.

FACE POWDER POISONS A GIRL

Absorption of Arsenic May Kill Victim of Beauty Paste.

New York, May 25.—Poison sufficient to produce fatal results was contained in a paste which Margaret Carr put on her face. She is in Harlem hospital and the physicians say that unless complications set in she may recover. The victim followed her sweetheart's advice in using the paste to remove a superfluous growth of hair. She says she bought it at a drug store. Soon after using it she suffered from nausea and cramps. She lost consciousness and her limbs were becoming paralyzed.

Knew All But One Thing.

The professor of mechanics at an English college once gave a lecture upon the locomotive, and was particularly struck by the absorption of one juvenile listener. He spoke to the student after the lecture, and asked him: "Well, I suppose you understand all about the locomotive now?" "Yes," was the reply, "all but one thing." "And what is that?" said the professor kindly. "I can't make out what makes the locomotive move without horses." —Stray Stories.

CZAR FRIGHTENED

Gives Explicit Orders That the Jews Are To Be Protected From Harm.

(Special By Scripps-McRae.) Berlin, May 25.—It is asserted that the Jewish financial magnates of London, Berlin and Paris have brought pressure to bear upon Russia to prevent a further demonstration against the Semites.

Threaten Loans The Russian minister of finance has been notified that if more trouble follows the call for Russian loans will not be answered and that the "White Czar" may have trouble to raise funds to meet necessary expenses.

Orders Peace As a result of these threats the czar has ordered all his agents to see that there is no further continuation of the riots and that the Jews are protected in every manner possible by troops and police.

PICNIC BRINGS HUNDREDS HERE

Beloit and Rockford People Enjoyed a Day at Crystal Springs, Sunday.

Several hundred people from Beloit, Rockford and Janesville went to the Crystal Springs picnic yesterday. The three steamers were busy all day and evening bringing the crowd to and from the park. The Beloit band furnished music for the occasion and played for dancing during the afternoon and evening. The crowds wandered over the grounds, sat under trees and listened to the music. The inevitable came ringing and doll rack was much in evidence. In the evening the crowd gathered at the pavilion to dance.

COUNCIL'S ACTION THIS EVENING

Franchise Question Could Come Up for a Settlement, But Will Be Put Over.

If so desired the city councilmen may grant an ordinance tonight to the Janesville Traction company to build tracks in this city with a view to extending their line to Madison. However, it is not probable that such action will be taken. It is generally believed that matters will be allowed to stand where they are until the opposition ordinance, which will be presented tonight, has reached the point where it is ready for action. The regular meeting of the council will occur tonight at the usual hour for the summer months—8 o'clock.

Malay Governor Puts Export Duty on Tin Ore to Curb Standard Oil.

Singapore, May 25.—The government of the Malay states has imposed a prohibitive duty on the export of tin ore unless it is smelted within the colony. This step is designed to check an attempt to create a combine in the tin trade by the Standard Oil company, the United States Steel corporation and the American Tin Plate company, which propose to import the ore into the United States free of duty and re-export the smelted article.

INSANE FROM LOSS OF SLEEP

Injured Man Loses Reason After Long Period of Wakefulness.

St. Louis, Mo., May 25.—Edward Christ has become violently insane from lack of sleep. He is a lineman employed by the Carondelet Electric Lighting company. Last Tuesday he fell from a pole thirty feet and his back was severely injured. His injury made it impossible for him to lie down at all or sit still for more than a few minutes, and sleep was impossible. For four days Christ walked the floor, fighting the pain that would not let him sleep. Suddenly he became violent and was taken to the city hospital.

Drink from the Clouds.

The means by which sea birds quench their thirst when far out at sea is described by an old skipper, who tells how he has seen birds at sea, far from any land that could furnish them water, hovering around and under a storm cloud, clattering like ducks on a hot day at a pond, and drinking in the drops of rain as they fell. They will smell a rain squall 100 miles distant, or even farther off, and scud for it with almost inconceivable swiftness.

QUEER FREAKS OF LIGHTNING

One of the lightning bolts which accompanied the electrical storm which was rampant at about eleven o'clock this morning, indulged in a merry romp at the Glen street home of Mail Carrier C. J. Blakely. Striking a cotton-wood tree which is an old landmark and was regarded as the tallest tree in the city, the bolt split the tree from end to end, probably killing it. A wire clothes line was attached to the tree and the bolt next darted along the line to a bed quilt which was hanging there and burned it up completely. Before becoming subdued the bolt struck a couple of corners of the house and did not succeed in doing any damage.

Fearing a drenching a farmer had tied his horse in front of the stricken tree and had himself taken refuge on the veranda of the house, which was free of occupants at the time. The horse was stretched out by the lightning and remained in that condition for about ten minutes. The driver of the horse was knocked down at the same time. In a neighboring house the shock was sufficient to affect nearly everyone to a greater or less degree, and the telephone in the house was burned out.

OLD WOMAN STARVES HERSELF

Inherits $4,000 and Becomes Close Fisted as a Result.

Peoria, Ill., May 25.—Anna Debault, unmarried and aged 85 years, would doubtless have starved to death had neighbors not intervened when they entered her home at Princeton and summoned officials. She has been starving herself for two years, and when found was extremely weak. Her mind is deranged and she was adjudged insane by the court. Ten years ago she inherited $4,000 from her brother and immediately took on miserly habits. Two years ago she began to deny herself food. She kept to her bed most of the time to save expenditures for clothing.

Spanish Premier Will Not Allow It To Continue Any Longer Upon Soil of Spain.

(Special By Scripps-McRae.) Paris, May 25.—Great public indignation has been aroused by the list of fatal accidents that have followed the first stage of the Paris-Madrid automobile race of Sunday, and the race has been declared off.

Same in Spain The Spanish premier has followed the lead of the French premier and has forbidden that the race be continued upon Spanish ground. He will also send troops to see that this order is enforced.

List of Dead The reports of yesterday's accidents continue to come in and while several reported dead are still alive their condition is very critical and they will be left partial cripples for life if they ever recover.

CROWDS AT SHRINE OF MARY

Three Thousand Celebrating Titular Feast in Wisconsin.

Hartford, Wis., May 25.—The titular feast was celebrated at St. Mary's church on Holy Hill Sunday with impressive ceremony. There were 3,000 persons present, hundreds of them excursionists from Chicago. At 10:30 o'clock solemn high mass was said, with Rev. Mr. Matthews of Chicago as celebrant, Rev. J. A. Bartram of Hartford as deacon and Rev. Mr. Berg of Richfield as sub-deacon. The German sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Bartram and the English sermon by Rev. Mr. Berg, the two pastors who have charge of the church. The services ended with the stations at 2 o'clock. Many crippled and blind persons were present, seeking relief.

BOILER EXPLOSION KILLS SIX

Nine Others Seriously Injured by Disaster in Louisiana.

Plaquemine, La., May 25.—One of the boilers of Wilson & Cochran's saw-mill at Wilcox, near Maringou station, exploded, killing six persons. The killed are: William Pearson, James Victor, Archer Philip, William Hill, Richard Hill, Jesse Thomas. Nine others are seriously injured and it is thought that two of them will die. Among the injured are Glover, the sawyer, and J. J. Dolinger, boiler-maker, of Plaquemine.

Joe Shekey, who had been on a fishing trip to Lake Koshkonong, returned to work this morning.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Monday, May 25, 1903.—The news from the army before Vicksburg leaves it closely investigating the place, with the almost positive certainty that the city must fall into our hands, with the 30,000 rebels who defend it.

The war department has issued an order requiring all the abandoned rebel farms within General Helmholz's district to be put under cultivation by contrabands.

A meeting of the citizens of Janesville will be held at Lappin's hall this evening at eight o'clock, to make arrangements for sending sanitary stores to the wounded Wisconsin soldiers in the Vicksburg army.

There will be a meeting of the Janesville City Guards, at Talhuan's store, next door north of R. J. Richardson's on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Richmond Dispatch of the 23rd contains the following: Mobile, May 21.—In Saturday's fight we lost 30 pieces of artillery, which were spiked and abandoned. On Sunday the federalists advanced and took the Big Black bridge, but were repulsed; they crossed higher up and took us in the rear, when the bridge was burned and the works abandoned. Our loss is heavy. Vicksburg is closely besieged.

..Chicago Centennial..

The arrangement committee of the Chicago Centennial celebration has mapped out an elaborate and interesting program for every day and night between September 6 and October 1. There will be an illuminated night industrial illuminated automobile parade at night, a military pageant, automobile races and an athletic tournament, water polo, swimming races, rowing regattas, and centennial yacht races for championship trophies. Arrangements will be made for an old settler's reunion which probably will take place under a huge canvas on the lake front, and also for centennial religious exercises in all the churches. The two most important features of the celebration, however, will be the monster navel battle off the lake front on the first night of the jubilee and the re-production of Chicago of 1803 on the new ground of the lake front east of the Illinois

Central tracks, at Van Buren and Jackson boulevard.

In the navel battle it is anticipated that all the government boats on the lake front will participate, and the fight will be made realistic by the destruction of several vessels expressly constructed for this purpose.

The reproduction of old Fort Dearborn will take the form of an Indian village inhabited by 400 Ojibwas, Potawatomies and Menomones who will come to Chicago from Canada for this special purpose. These are the tribes that inhabited Chicago when John Kinzie arrived here a hundred years ago. In coming from Canada it is proposed that the Indians make their first stop at Milwaukee, finishing the trip to Chicago along the lake shore in their canoes, making stops at Racine, Watkegan and other points.

TO DRIVE JEWS FROM RUSSIA
REFUSAL WILL MEAN EXILE

Declares That After One Year No Person of the Moslem Faith Will Be Tolerated in Czar's Domains—State Press Indorses This View.

St. Petersburg, May 25.—In well-informed circles the belief is current that the government aims at the complete expatriation of the Jews and that the massacre at Kishenev will stimulate such emigration. The government, naturally, is expected to disavow any such intention, but the attitude assumed by Nationalist papers gives strong color to the theory. A startling instance is seen in the support accorded M. Kronshaven, the editor of the Bessarabz, the anti-Semitic paper of Kishenev.

Writing after the massacre, M. Kronshaven addressed the Jews as follows:

Urges Change of Faith.
"Become Christians and our brothers and enjoy all the privileges of Russian citizenship. If not, you have one year to go where you please. After that term has expired there must remain a single Jew in Russia unless he is Christianized, and thereafter entrance to Russia will be forbidden to the Jews forever."

M. Kronshaven's defenders include, besides the Novoe Vremya and other Nationalist papers, the director of the Department of Police, M. Lopoukhin, who upon returning from Kishenev told a leading Liberal journalist that Kronshaven "was the only man in Russia who had not been bought by the Jews."

Demonstration at Warsaw.
News has reached here privately from Warsaw that on May 5 the workmen there unfurled red flags, shouted "Down with the autocracy!" and sang revolutionary songs. A thousand men participated actively and many more passively in this demonstration. The affair was suppressed by the Cossacks and police.

Describes Burial Scenes.
Syracuse, N. Y., May 25.—L. L. Hurwitz of 234 Grape street has received a letter from his father, L. Hurwitz, who lives in Kishenev, Russia, describing the burial of the massacre victims. After giving a long list of those buried from the hospital in one day, he says:

"We were afraid we would have to cut open the bodies before we buried them, but we were allowed to bury them with their clothes on. They were all laid in one long row.

Bodies Are Mutilated.
"Four thousand people with uncovered heads passed in line to look at the bodies to see if they could identify them. The noses of some had been cut off and some were so disfigured that it was almost impossible to tell them by their features, others had their eyes put out. The stores here, all the Jewish stores, and some others, are closed for twelve days as an evidence of mourning.

Food for the Hungry.
"Two carloads of bread and meat from near-by towns have arrived here and have been distributed by the committee, as well as supplies coming from America. It is feared that the sentences pronounced against those who took part in the massacres will not exceed three months each. If they do not it will mean more trouble, because the Russians will then believe that the government favors the killing and will continue it. The damages will amount to millions, but I am not able to tell how much."

ROCKEFELLER OFFERS
Y. M. C. A. $50,000

Gift Is Conditioned on the Association Raising $300,000 More Before Jan. 1, 1904.

Washington, May 25.—John D. Rockefeller has given $50,000 to the Young Men's Christian association of Washington. H. B. P. MacFarland, president of the board of district commissioners, announced the gift, which is conditioned on the completion of a canvass for $300,000 for the association before Jan. 1, 1904. The total amount contributed thus far is raised by the Rockefeller subscription to $210,000.

In submitting the offer John D. Rockefeller, Jr., writes: "In making this pledge my father desires to make a record of the fact that he has favorably considered the request made because of the unique relationship which the Washington Young Men's Christian association bears to the country at large, in that it is national in its scope and not, as is the case with young men's Christian associations in all other cities, wholly local."

Gift to University.
Bloomington, Ind., May 25.—John D. Rockefeller has offered to increase his donation to the student building fund of Indiana university from $30,000 to $50,000 on condition that a fund of $50,000 be raised from other sources before July 1. Subscriptions to the amount of $5,000 were obtained last year and the trustees at their next meeting will form plans to secure the required $15,000.

SECURE ILLINOIS COAL LAND

Minnesota Interests Close Deal for Big Tracts Near Girard.

Springfield, Ill., May 25.—F. G. James, branch agent of Thomas Lowry, street railway magnate of Minneapolis, Minn., has been and still is in Girard in connection with the closing of a deal for several thousand acres of coal land lying upon and along the Jacksonville and St. Louis railroad, recently purchased by the Burlington, between Girard and Burnett. Payments at the rate of from $5,000 to $10,000 per day are being made to the farmers for their coal. Just who are associated with Mr. Lowry in this enterprise cannot be ascertained, but all indications are that there is no lack of ready means to accomplish the purpose of the syndicate.

PHILADELPHIA HAS BIG FIRE

Flames Destroy Warehouse and $1,000,000 in Chattels.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 25.—Fire destroyed the Front Street Warehousing company's building at 919 to 925 North Front street and caused a loss of $1,000,000. The building was three stories high in front street and five in the rear and had two sub-cellars. The contents of the building were owned by many firms and individuals. The building was owned by Jacob Wiseman and valued at $65,000. Three firemen were injured, two of them sustaining fractured shoulderblades.

For many years this preparation has been curing cases that otherwise would not have been cured. Read what it has done for others. It will do the same for you:

"I write you this letter through gratitude for the benefit I have received by taking your valuable remedies. For three years I was subject to dizzy spells, sometimes several in a day. When I had them I could not raise my head from the pillow. My heart was greatly affected and I frequently had spells of severe palpitation and fluttering, pain, tenderness, choking sensations, could not lie on my left side and was not able to do any work. I called a doctor who helped me some but the dizzy spells grew more frequent and I was so very nervous that I did not care to live. One day I asked the Lord to take me from this world or put my eyes on something that would help me. The first paper I took up was a New York paper and in it I saw your advertising. My husband got me three bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine and one box of Dr. Miles' Ant-Pain Pills since which time I have had no more dizzy spells. I can lie on either side and sleep all night. I have been able to do my own work for three years. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure saved my life."—Mrs. R. H. Burch, Burch, S. D.

Endorsement Makes This Claim
a Fact.

Endorsed by scores of Janesville's citizens who cheerfully make a public statement of their experience, is proof we have to back our claims that Doan's Kidney Pills cure every form of kidney ills, from a common backache to serious urinary disorders. Here is one local example. We have many more like it.

Mr. H. W. Rodgers, carpenter of 210 South Main street says: "My wife had kidney complaint and rheumatism for five years suffering a great deal from pain across the loins. Doan's Kidney Pills, sold by the People's Drug Co., brought much longed for and gratifying results. First there was no visible change and she came to the conclusion that they were like all other remedies she had tried but finally the aching and the distress in the small of the back disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for U. S. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS.

Judge Madden of the district court of Emporia, Kansas, recently rendered a decision on the rights of newspapers handling court cases before they were submitted to the jury. The attorney for the plaintiff asked for an order restraining publication. "In refusing to grant the order Judge Madden said: 'I will not give an order muzzling the press.' He then proceeded to deliver a strong speech upholding the press. He said the press was the bulwark of American liberty, that he had no right to restrain it unless it was clearly shown that what it reported was calculated to subvert the ends of justice and that in this instance no such showing had been made.

The judge also stated that the jurors would be instructed to bring a verdict entirely in conformity with the evidence brought out in the case, and were also cautioned not to allow any information from other sources to bias their judgment. The argument was lengthy and strongly favored the rights of the press, especially as it was guaranteed by the constitution.

The Kansas judge's sound, and his verdict will be appreciated by publishers whose rights are not always respected. Publicity is a safeguard that is not always appreciated. Violators of the law, whether they escape with a fine or a heavier penalty never want the facts heralded abroad and not a week passes but that this class of citizens are found in newspaper offices, pleading for suppression of this kind of news.

The request is seldom granted, and it would be better for the public at large if it was always declined.

Courts of justice of whatever character are not secret organizations. They belong to the people, and are conducted by servants of the people.

If there is any class of news to which the people are entitled, it is news of the courts, and in the cities, every paper of any prominence employs on its staff court reporters, whose business it is to furnish detailed reports of all important trials, while they are in progress. The reading public know as much about the evidence including the charge of the judge, as do the jury, and the verdict of public opinion is usually correct.

First offenders are sometimes entitled to consideration, and publicity is frequently a warning, and an object lesson that acts as a preventative. The disposition to muzzle the press is already reacting in Pennsylvania, and the action of the men responsible is severely criticised.

PREMATURE.

The Milwaukee Journal is very much interested in forecasting future events of the republican party in the state. The paper is unable to determine with any degree of certainty, which one of half a dozen available men, shall be named to represent the party in the next campaign.

This voluntary solicitude on the part of the Journal is commendable, and is fully appreciated by the party but it might be well for the paper to remember that the campaign is some ways ahead, and there is really no occasion to worry.

While not probable it is among the possibilities, that the democratic party may succeed in placing a ticket in the field, that the Journal would be willing to support. This is not likely to happen unless the naming of the ticket is left to the Milwaukee paper, and then it might be difficult to tie it up to protracted support.

The Journal prides itself on political independence, which usually means political orphanage. It goes out with a club for any man of either party, who for the moment appears to be in the lead. It possesses wisdom beyond its day and generation, and offers advice with reckless abandon.

As a prognosticator of future political events, it has no rival. Sometimes it guesses right, but it frequently has a guess coming.

The republican party is not worrying about the next campaign. The Journal should have discovered long ago, that time is a good regulator. It has been a little slow in dealing with democracy, but it gets there just the same. Don't worry.

IRON AND STEEL TRADE IN 1902

The report now in press, on the Iron and Steel Trade for 1902, by Mr. James M. Swank, United States Geological Survey, shows a continued advance in the annual domestic production of pig iron, the excess over 1901, being 1,492,957 tons, or almost 12.24 per cent. The total production in 1902 was 17,821,307 long tons as compared with 15,878,354 tons in 1901, 13,789,242 tons in 1900, 13,620, 703 tons in 1899, 11,773,934 tons in 1898, and 9,625,650 tons in 1897.

Notwithstanding this increase of production, the imports of iron and steel in various forms amounted in foreign value in 1902 to $41,468,828 as against $20,395,015 in 1901, an increase in 1902 of $21,073,811, or over 100 per cent. The total exports of iron and steel, including locomotives, car wheels machinery, etc., amounted in 1902 to $7,892,036 as against $102, 534,575 in 1901, $129,633,480 in 1900, $105,690,047 in 1899. The exports of agricultural implements, which are not included above, amounted in 1902 to $17,981,497 against $16,714,308 in 1901.

The consumption of pig iron in 1902 was approximately 18,439,899 long tons of which 625,383 were imported as compared with 16,232,446 tons in 1901, of which 62,930 tons were imported. The increased production of pig iron in 1902 over 1901 was 1,412, 953 tons; the increased consumption was 2,207,453 tons.

At the close of 1902, the number of furnaces in blast was 307, as compared with 266 at the close of 1901 and 232 at the close of 1900. At the close of 1902 105 furnaces were out of blast—many being temporarily banked from lack of fuel—as against 140 furnaces at the close of 1901.

The production of Bessemer steel ingots and castings increased more than half a million tons in 1902—to 9,306,471 long tons; the production of openhearth steel ingots and castings in 1902 was 5,667,729 long tons, an increase of 1,031,420 tons over 1901. In the fiscal year 1902 there were built for mercantile service 106 steel vessels and one iron vessel, with a gross tonnage of 280,362 tons, as compared with 119 steel vessels and one iron vessel with a gross tonnage of 190,851 tons built in 1901. Of these 107 vessels, 49, with a gross tonnage of 161,930 tons, were built at ports on the Great Lakes.

The production of pig iron in Canada in 1902 increased to 319,557 long tons, over 30 per cent as compared with 1901; and the production of steel ingots and castings in 1902 was 152, 037 long tons, as compared with 26, 054 tons in 1901, an increase of 125, 983 tons or nearly 600 per cent.

The second part of Mr. Swank's report consists of an interesting and valuable series of tables presenting complete statistics of the production of iron and steel iron ore, and coal in the United States Great Britain, Germany France and Belgium, to the close of 1901, thus showing the progress that has been made by these countries in the first year of the twentieth century.

PRACTICAL CHARITY

In another column will be found a list of subscribers to the Russian Jewish funds. This money was secured by Mr. Benes and an opportunity will be given for the next few days to add to the list either through Mr. Benes or at the Gazette office. Newspapers all over the country have taken the matter up and contributions are freely offered. Janesville people will be pleased to contribute because necessities are urgent and the cause most worthy.

The outrages recently perpetrated on these innocent people are so horrible in detail, that it is difficult to believe them possible, and yet they are intensely real. Letters are being received every day, by relatives and friends in this country pleading for help to escape.

The Russian government, if not directly responsible, tolerates conditions that have no rival in history. Innocent children have been poisoned by the score, and hundreds of women have been tortured and outraged, by a villainous mob. All kinds of property has been destroyed and the annals of crime put to blush the history of the dark ages.

The victims are not only destitute and helpless, but they have nothing to look forward to, except escape from the country. Much of the money being raised will be used to help them to get away from surroundings that are worse than bondage, and thousands of them will be brought to America.

The Jews are a thrifty people, and with half an opportunity they soon become self supporting. They are seldom drunkards, never tramps, and they contribute but a fraction to the criminal class. This country has room for them.

The movement to help the unfortunate people in Russia is most commendable. It should appeal to every heart. The Gazette will be pleased to receive liberal subscriptions, and the paper will see that the money is properly forwarded.

The Indianapolis chambermaid, who refused to care for Booker T. Washington's room, will soon have money enough to start a hotel of her own. Her southern admirers have already contributed $3,000. This episode opens up a new field for enterprising girls that is liable to be worked for all there is in it.

Senator Hutton's race problem project died "a born-ain". It is just as well. The south has no need of that class of interference, and if the scheme had been carried out, it could only have resulted in confusion.

Superior failed to get her grain bill and now the city would like to secede from the state. Better stay by the ship and try again.

The Reliance is all right and Sir Thomas Lipton will be obliged to set a lively pace if he wins the prize.

The milliners have joined the crusade to save the song birds. They will no longer be on women's hats. This means less work for the game wardens.

PRESS COMMENT

Madison Journal: The Wisconsin Telephone company is putting up a strenuous fight throughout the state against its rivals, the independent companies. In Ashland, where all the butcher shops refused to put in the Bell telephones, the old company opened a meat market and is underselling the other butchers.

Milwaukee News: With the approval of Governor La Follette the primary election question, so far as it relates to action by the legislature, will be finally disposed of, a consummation devoutly to be wished, when it is understood that the primary bill has elapsed the machinery of two legislative sessions and has been a formidable obstacle to the enactment of desirable legislation.

Milwaukee Free Press: The direct nomination law is but one step in the exact line of the Australian ballot law. The fight to get the law as nearly enacted as it is in Wisconsin today has been a bitter one, but not so bitter as was the fight for the Australian ballot law when it was enacted. The opposition to the direct vote has been made by the same powers that oppose the Australian ballot.

La Crosse Press: Postmaster General Payne's actions in regard to the Tullock charges reveal a change of mind on the part of the chief of the post office department in the matter of clearing up the scandal involving his subordinates. He no longer sees anything wrong and in fact is becoming the old Henry C. Payne of Wisconsin politics. Well, it was foolish to imagine a leopard could change its spots.

Eau Claire Leader: The prospects of a bumper crop in Wisconsin were never better than at present. So that the people of the state have something to be thankful for if they do not get their primary election bill.

Milwaukee Sentinel: The legislature having determined to adjourn on Saturday next, the average citizen will make ready for a sigh of relief and a vacation from state politics for a season. The state is entitled to a rest.

Eau Claire Telegram: The Wisconsin legislature has passed an ad valorem railway taxation bill, a primary election bill, a mortgage taxation bill and other measures. It can not be said now that the session goes for naught.

Waupun Leader: The legislators think $25 a week too much money for their daily prayer and have passed a bill to reduce the chaplain's pay to $15. If they will try the job themselves for a week or two they would think $25 too little.

Neenah Times: The Milwaukee Free Press says the passage of the primary bill gave the stalwarts a violent shock, while the Sentinel says its passage gave the half breeds a violent shock. That it was a shocking affair to both parties must be admitted.

Milwaukee Wisconsin: The legislature will now adjourn with satisfaction, having earned the good-will of the people. It is an outcome most fortunate when senators of such opposite tendencies as McGillivray and Whitehead fraternize on a bill of this complicated character.

Calculating Time.

In Europe some of the countries calculate their time from the meridian that passes through Greenwich in England, but the United States calculates from the meridian that is seventy-five degrees west of Greenwich. When the sun is directly over this meridian it is said to be noon at Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston and all other towns and cities in the Eastern division.—St. Nicholas.

The Important Question.

Not long ago the law firm of Black, Olcott, Gruber & Bonyngne had a client whose case it fell to the lot of Mr. Gruber to take charge of. After the evidence was in and the judge had delivered his charge to the jury, Gruber turned to his client and said: "Well, Sir, how did you like the judge's charge?" "I liked his all right, but how about yours?" responded the client.—New York Times.

TOBACCO TALK TO TOBACCO MEN

GENERAL OUTLOOK OF MARKET IS PROSPEROUS.

EVERYTHING MOVES SLOWLY

Important Decisions of the United States on the Matter of Duty.

During the past week the lull in the tobacco leaf market has continued with no visible cause, says the United States Tobacco Journal in its summary review for the past week. For the cigar industry is not only holding its own, but steadily increasing its output. The lull is therefore one of those occasional occurrences to which the market is subjected occasionally, and to which it ought to be accustomed by this time.

Some transactions took place, which ought to show us which way the wind blows. A sale was made of 300 cases of 1900 Wisconsin, at a stiff figure. The scarcity, if not absolute famine of the binder leaf, compels manufacturers to pay patient holders of 1900 Wisconsin leaf their price. In Sumatra an average weekly business was done. In view of the stern fact that the domestic wrapper leaf supply is both in quantity and availability far behind the supply of the past few years. The Sumatra market ought to be not only brisk, but booming.

Havana Market
A repose has set in the Havana market which was thriving for the past few months, but that repose is not likely to last very long, as manufacturers have realized that they cannot count on a fresh supply of the new Remedios crop. In factory vegas, the demand is exceeding the supply, and there is a new tendency noticeable of buying strictly Havana wrapper leaf. This tendency would prove that the hold which our domestic clear Havanas have taken of the consumer is extending gradually to the higher grades.

France made a clear profit of more than $55,000,000 out of its tobacco monopoly last year, the Matin says, and some statistics just issued by the department are certainly interesting. Over 2,600,000 kilo weight of cigars and 1,600,000 kilograms. The inhabitants smoke annually, a little over two pounds of tobacco per head with an average expenditure of 11 francs for each. But addition to the narcotic varies in different localities. Thus, while the population of the department of the Nord contrives to get through upward of 2,300 grams per head in the course of a twelve-month, that of the Lozere is content with an average of 400 grams. The Parisian's average expenditure on smoking comes to nearly 20 francs per annum.

Are After-Fraud.
New York.—Importations of leaf tobacco are being closely watched since a controversy has arisen between the house of Berriman Bros., of this city and Chicago, according to the Herald.

Two experts have been sent from here to assist a general appraiser in examining other invoices in the west. It is believed that through ignorance of examiners of leaf tobacco and other causes millions of dollars in duties have in the last few years have been lost to the government tobacco consigned to Berriman Bros., the greatest discrepancy has been detected, and the custom authorities have been amazed to find that examiners should be so little qualified to distinguish between wrapper tobacco and the ordinary filler, for there is a difference in the duty of $1.50 a pound.

Slot Machine Reform.
Philadelphia is just now suffering from a spasm of reform that "got busy" so quick the victims had no opportunity to defend themselves from it. A large portion of the sufferers are retail cigar dealers. One of the prominent cigar dealers of the city is my authority for the statement that the wholesale consignment of slot machines has entirely ruined the cigar retail trade as far as the little dealers are concerned.

The cigar industry of Tampa is moving along at a satisfactory gait, with indications of being the best summer in the history of the trade. The general public has faith in the continuance of the city's prosperity, based principally on cigar industry, as is evidenced by the amount of building going on and a genuine boom in the real estate business.

Wisconsin News.
Seeding has been completed here some time, but the prevalence of cold weather has considerably retarded its growth. Very little tobacco is now left in the growers' hands, although buyers are still picking up a few small lots.

The of $10,000 asked by the Wisconsin Tobacco Growers and Dealers' association, to be devoted to experimenting in the improvement of tobacco seed, has been cut down to $3,000 in the reports of the legislative committee. The money will be expended under the direction of state. The common council of the city Prof. Henry of the State Experiment Station.

In Legislature.
The proposition to take the assessing authority out of the hands of the local communities and place it with the Tax Commission, who are to tax leaf tobacco, has met with considerable opposition. It is feared that if the bill becomes a law, outside dealers who now sort and pack tobacco in Wisconsin, will arrange to handle it outside the state.

F. D. Moseley, who has been visiting relatives in the city, left today for his home in Racine. Mrs. Moseley will remain a week longer.

AT HOME AND AT REST

Pliny McCullough
At six o'clock this morning death came to the home of Levi McCullough, and released from long and weary suffering the spirit of Pliny, who for thirteen years had been the care and comfort of the home.

Pliny was the only child and he commanded all the wealth of parental love, because he was partially deprived of sight. For the past eight years he had been a pupil at the State School for the Blind, and in order to be near him, his father and mother left their home in Virgo, a few years ago, and came to Janesville. They occupy a little home on State street, not far from the school, where the boy could be with them while gaining his education.

He was a bright and active boy, of genial nature, and possessing many traits of character that won the hearts of all who knew him. The mother's love and father's solicitude, held him in close embrace, and when a sense fastened itself upon him and he was obliged to give up his studies in the early spring, it was difficult for them to realize that he was an invalid.

He made a gallant fight, but the odds were against him, and in spite of all that skill and loving care could suggest, hope was abandoned, and for the past month it has been apparent that his days were numbered.

Surrounded by teachers and school mates, patient and hopeful to the last he entered the valley of the shadow, with a whisper on his lips, "I'm going away," and as the life went out there came to the little sorrowing group the feeling of consolation that Pliny had opened his eyes in the land of perpetual sunshine.

A brief funeral service will be held at the house at one-thirty, Wednesday afternoon, to be followed by services at the school at two o'clock.

Lawrence Contoren
Lawrence Contoren of this city died at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Cella Collins, 61 North Bluff St., at 5 o'clock this morning. The funeral will be held Wednesday at 9 a. m. from St. Mary's church. Deceased was highly esteemed by Archbishop Henderson of Dubuque, Ia. He leaves two children, Mrs. Cella Collins and Thomas Williams.

Are Still Waiting. The library board is still delayed from announcing the opening of the Carnegie library through the failure of the electric fixtures to arrive, although they were shipped many days ago.

Mississippi Directors Meet. The directors of the golf club will hold a meeting tonight at which appointments will be made for the house and games committees, neither of which has been filled this season. New members will also be voted upon and other business brought up. Cards are in the possession of J. P. Baker which should be filled out by all members of the club who are qualifying for team positions.

Big Band Coming. Monroe Woodmen have notified the picnic executive committee that they will bring one of the biggest bands to be found in the state outside of Milwaukee, the Monroe Military band. The band had always taken a prominent part in past picnics and is larger than ever this year.

G. A. R. MAKES PREPARATIONS FOR COMING EVENT.

All Comrades, old soldiers, Sons of Veterans are invited to attend. The following are hereby detailed for duty, John Kruse, color bearer. First division, Guide, W. W. Willis, assistants, B. M. Bucklin, W. Morrison. Second division, guide, J. Howland, assistants, W. G. Palmer, D. Conger. Third division, guide, Chas. Sheppard, assistants, S. B. Saxton, R. G. Hall. Fourth division, guide, J. G. Wray, assistants, R. P. Young, M. H. Gibbs. Fifth division, guide, Geo. Vine, assistants, L. Fisher, J. Reeder. Sixth division, guide, John Lawler, assistant, R. A. Carroll.

Other Orders
Town of Janesville, Guide, J. L. Bear, assistant, M. Rahyan. Town of Center, Guide, P. Thorpy, assistant, A. Wiggins. Town of Harmony, guide, Myron Clark. Town of Rock, guide, Wm. Gunn, assistant, Joseph Rabyor, Emerald Grove, guide, Wm. Davis, assistant, E. Heller.

To Report
The above comrades will report to their respective superintendents of divisions. By order of A. F. Lee, Commander. C. D. Child, Adjutant. The line of march and further details will be given later.

Quick Work
The speed with which work can be turned out from the Gazette's department of printing was demonstrated Saturday, when a large number of three colored, full-sized posters, 28x42 inches in size, were hurried through for the Modern Woodmen. It was decided at a meeting of the committee of arrangements held Friday evening that posters announcing the big Woodman picnic, to be held in Janesville, June 4th, must be sent out to all camps in cities and towns in the surrounding district. The order for printing was placed that evening with the understanding that the work be completed Saturday evening so that the posters could be sent out the same night. This meant considerable hustling on the part of the Gazette printing department, as color work is particular work; the facilities of the department with the men were equal to the occasion, however, and the order was ready on time. The members of the Woodmen committee forwarded the packages Saturday evening to the various Woodmen camps, so that by tonight the whole country will read of the coming event.

BAD ACCIDENT ON INTERURBAN

FATALLY INJURED LAST NIGHT.

OCCURRED NEAR GOSS'S PARK

Beloit Man Came to Grief in a Peculiar Manner—Struck Car with Stick.

Gustave Gustaphson lies in the Strong Emergency hospital at Beloit, suffered from a fractured shoulder and other injuries resultant from a peculiar accident on the interurban road. His condition is so critical that for hours tidings of his death have been expected momentarily. No wholly satisfactory explanation has been found for the casualty, which occurred at Goss's park, a few miles south of Beloit, shortly before nine o'clock Sunday evening.

Gustaphson has been employed by the Foster Shoe Co. in Beloit.

Tried to Stop Car
Gustaphson was standing on the platform at Goss's park and wanted to board the car with a Miss McCormick who had accompanied him. His signals, if he made any, were unnoticed and the car, which was in charge of Motorman Garde and Conductor Miller, whizzed by. As it passed Gustaphson tried to attract attention by striking it with a rolled up hammock which he carried, and which was fitted with wooden slats at the ends.

Found on Tracks
Conjectures alone can explain what then occurred, as neither his companion nor any one on the car saw the accident, but when a car from the other direction arrived, a few minutes later Gustaphson was found in the center of the tracks, badly bruised and in intense pain. It is supposed that striking the car with the wooden hammock stretcher must have thrown him violently from the platform, although it is believed that he did not come in contact with the car.

A Clever Oil
The Badger Drug Co. have repeatedly given the people of Janesville many clever advertising propositions and money saving sales, but their latest is certainly a surprising offer.

They have had made in Germany one thousand solid back slamsaw 2 1/2 x 7 1/2 inch. clothes brushes each one embossed on back a neat design, advertising the Badger Drug Company.

These brushes will wear for years, being useful every day will prove a good advertisement and souvenir. They will outwear a dozen whisk brooms and at price sold cost less than one-half of one.

Next Saturday 10 cents will purchase one (one only to each family) at the Badger Drug Co. store, Cor. Milwaukee and River St.

Don't fail to look at them in the show window.

COMING NEXT SATURDAY—HI HENRY

Some years ago Adrain C. Anson, for many years captain of the Chicago White Stockings, organized a baseball team, composed of men representing each of the big teams in the Major Leagues and make a tour of the world with his base-batters, known as the "All Americans." This grew some years later to a stage expression of "all star cast," when Rose Coghlan, with such associations as Elita Procter, Otis J. C. Stoddard, Louis Mann, Cora Tanner, Poldett Paget, Chas. Ratcliffe, Harry Lacey, all appeared in the "Sporting Duchess," and afterwards when the "Rivals," and other great revivals have been given with well known favorites in each of the several roles.

Messrs. Nixon & Zimmerman will introduce a novel feature in their forthcoming elaborate revival of "Miss Bob White," which to the knowledge of the writer, has never been detailed before, and this is an operatic chorus, that may mean nothing, or seem the coming of a new word or phrase, but it is very significant. The chorus which "Miss Bob White" will offer, will be unique in its way, entirely different from anything of its kind ever presented.

Ever since the original production of the piece some two years ago, Millard Spenser, the author has been on the alert for what he would term an ideal company, and so as each

Opera or Musical Comedy would come along, he would jot down the name or names of those he would like to have. True, he could not get them all, but in most instances, he was successful to a marked degree, a fact as now constituted, and the chorus is only in the embryo. They have the pick and the cream of the following operatic and musical comedy companies: "King Dodo," "The Jewel of Asia," "The Show Girl," "The Burgomaster," "The Kicker-lucker Girl," "Dolly Warden," "The Silver Slipper," "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," "Beauty and the Beast," "The Margueritta Sylvia Opera," "The Strollers," "The Toreador," "The Francis Wilson Opera Co.," "The Country Girl," "The Chinese Honeycomb," "The Wild Rose," "The Runaways," and "Sally in Our Alley." So if for no other reason than for a collection of the beauty and voice of each of the foregoing, the coming revival will be an interesting study, but that is only a minor detail, the principals when announced, will be the source of greatest surprise. Ed Millard Spenser has never disappointed his followers and Nixon & Zimmerman are renowned for their "Making Good," and they faithfully promise to surpass by miles the original production, so you see, the best is yet to come.

..Prison Life in Joliet..

Every time the convicts of Joliet penitentiary walk into their spacious new dining room they must perforce read the rules and regulations that appear on the walls in big letters that all may see them. The rules are as follows:

1. On entering the dining room take off your cap with right hand and place same in front of your left shoulder. On taking your seat hang your cap on the hook under the table in front of you, fold your arms and keep your eyes to the front until the signal is given to commence eating.

2. If you wish more food than has been given you, make your wants known by the following signals: For meat, hold up your fork level with your chin. For soup, hold up your spoon. For vegetables, hold up your knife. For coffee hold up your cup. For water, hold up your glass. For bread hold up your right hand.

3. Talking, laughing, gazing about the dining room, or trying to communicate with another convict in anyway whatever, using tobacco or spitting on the floor is strictly forbidden. All general rules of the prison will be strictly enforced in the dining room.

4. Wasting of food in any form will not be allowed. Do not ask for more than you can eat. When through with your meal place all pieces of bread on the right side of your plate, and your knife, fork and spoon on the plate. You will be given a reasonable time to eat your meal. When signal is given stop eating, fold your arms and wait for the signal to march out.

5. When signal is given to march out, arise, push back your seat, take your cap in your right hand, place the same in front of your left shoulder, and march out in a quiet and orderly manner.

..Real and Fancy Farms..

Prof. R. H. Bailey of Cornell university, after telling in Country Life in America of the way city people rush in to farming specialties expecting to revolutionize the business, makes these sententious remarks:

"Meantime the farmer looks on and waits. He is schooled in patience. He grows oats and corn and logs. After a time the fancy farmer gives up one specialty for another and by and by he gives up farming. The farmer still raises oats and corn. The chances are that the real farmer makes the real progress. He surely will if he is well informed, well disciplined and energetic. Given these conditions of intellectual and spiritual endowment, in this day he cannot help making progress, but his progress will consist in raising more and better corn, not in raising mushrooms. The forward look lies not so much in raising unusual things as improving the usual things.

"The commonest fault with the city man's farming is the fact that he puts more capital into it than the business legitimately will bear. He goes into farming with the city man's desires. Ordinarily he makes the mistake of supposing that the mere physical accessories of life are as important in the country as they are in the city, forgetting that the satisfaction in the farm life is largely of a different kind than that of the city life. The result of all this is 'fancy farming' as the real farmer dubs it. As farming for diversion is perfectly legitimate, but as pattern farming it is likely to be a failure. It is another kind of freak farming. Any farming that is self supporting is legitimate, whatever its kind; by this it is to be judged. The point we wish to make is that reform and progress in agriculture are to come from the inside."

Degrees of Intoxication.
The ancient problem, "When is man drunk?" is still up for discussion. Some conservative people claim that he must be able to say "Saeco and socks shock Susan" with fluency and accuracy to prove his sobriety. A more liberal view is that no man is drunk who is able to lie on the floor without holding on.

First Artificer Honored.
The first artificer ever enrolled for his work was Henry de Vic, a converted Arab who built a gigantic clock for Charles V., king of France, in 1370. The clock weighed five hundredweight. De Vic also received a life pension of 100 crowns.

William McAdoo, formerly a congressman from New Jersey and late assistant secretary of the navy in the Cleveland administration, is now a citizen of New York, where he has built up a flourishing law practice. DR. LINDLEY SAYS:

"No possible visitation of cholera can equal the death rate caused by diseased and imperfectly acting kidneys."

People die daily with so-called "heart disease," "apoplexy," "general debility," etc., when in reality it was of organic disease of the kidneys. Few physicians and fewer people realize the extent of this terrible disease or its dangerous nature.

The secret of freedom from this dreadful disease is the liberal use of Dr. Lindley's Golden Kidney Cure. It must be taken the moment any change from the standard of health is noticed, no matter where the affection seems to be located, and continued until every particle of impurity is removed and the kidneys are in a healthy condition. Dr. Lindley's Golden Kidney Cure is sold by most drug stores for 25 cents a bottle.

POULTRY

The Value of Capons and Caponizing.

Wm. G. Unitt, in an address to Nebraska poultry raisers, said: A capon bears the same relation to a cockerel that a steer does to a bull; it is a castrated rooster. But a capon is more quiet, lays on much flesh and fat and remains tender for months. They will weigh from 60 to 75 per cent more than a rooster of the same age and in many Eastern markets will bring from 20 to 30c per pound. The comb and wattles do not grow after the operation if done before they become very prominent, but in some cases it is the practice to cut them off. The feathers of the neck and saddle grow very long and glossy. A capon does not care for the hens, nor crow, nor fight, but will make the finest of mothers for chickens. If in the operation you do not succeed in removing all of the testicle, it will in course of time develop into a very large size and will be found to contain water. Such a bird is known as a slip. F. L. Washburn, in the Oregon Bulletin, No. 31, says: "A slip gains flesh and fat and better flesh than a rooster. But in three or four months after the operation, the comb and wattles grow, the bird develops a crow and chases the hens worse than a cockerel. And I would advise a person to kill such birds if he has any, as they are a great bother upon a poultry farm. In some cases they bring as much money as a capon of the same weight. But if a person is careful in doing the operation there will be no slips to put upon the market. It has been asked by several, is the operation cruel? It is no more cruel than performing the same kind of an operation upon pigs, colts, and calves. It does not take long to perform the operation and the bird will begin to eat directly after being released from the caponizing board. I would advise a person to operate upon a few dead ones first so as to become familiar with the appearance and position of the testicles. A person can use any of the large breeds and secure some very nice capons. The birds that you wish to caponize should be fasted 24 to 36 hours before the operation. And should be fed very light the first day or two after the operation."

Mottled Javas.

The Javas, though not as popular as some of the other breeds, are yet in every way worthy of more attention than they are receiving. They are a practical and good-sized fowl, differing from Plymouth Rock chiefly in form and symmetry. There are three varieties of Javas, the Black, Mottled and White. We illustrate a Mottled Java hen on this page. The plumage of the Mottled Javas is broken black and white in wings, tail and feathers, and the balance of the plumage is evenly mixed with black and white.

Feeding Winter Chicks.

Relative to the feeding of incubator chicks hatched in the winter, a report of the Rhode Island station says:

Many people have asked, on seeing the healthy growing, well feathered young chicks, what food we were using. The winter's experience, in which a variety of grains were used, indicates that it is not so much what the food is as how the food is supplied provided there are plenty of starch, albuminous, and green matters. In nature small seeds, insects and grass furnish food for chickens. These are most abundant in the spring and summer months, and it is at this time that the chickens thrive. To secure the best results foods simulating both the composition and the mechanical character of these should be supplied. For instance, in the summer the tips of grasses are young and tender and easily broken by the chickens. For green stuff to be easily assimilable some plant should be supplied which may also be easily broken. We have found hanging a head of lettuce in the brooder by a string to exactly furnish the desired want, and be greedily even crazily eaten by the chickens.

Wisconsin Jersey Breeders Meet.

From the Farmers' Review: The annual meeting of the Wisconsin Jersey Breeders' Association was held at the Palmer House, Fond du Lac, Feb. 12. The following officers were duly elected for the ensuing year. President, Hon. E. H. Hicks, Oshkosh; secretary, F. H. Scribner, Rosendale; treasurer, S. L. Emery, Albion; board of directors, Mrs. Adda F. Howie, Elm Grove; H. C. Taylor, Orfordville, and R. C. Green, Albion. Voted to have the annual meeting of this association convene hereafter at the time and place of the State Dairymen's Association which will be the second week in February. Items of interest were discussed relative to the interests of Jersey cattle, making a very profitable meeting.—F. H. Scribner, Sec.

Why Poor Cattle Are Marketed.

From Farmers' Review: In reply to your inquiry: Why are there so many immature, half-fat cattle being sent to market? I would say: In the first place a good number of these cattle were bought last fall on 90 day paper. That paper has matured. Those holding that paper ask payment or renewal at higher rates. Many of these feeders have not confidence in the markets justifying them in holding and feeding to ripeness, so they send them in. Others who have been feeding soft, chaffy corn have not had the gain they looked for. Their corn has not held out as they expected. They do not feel safe in buying and feeding on the present prospects. So they send the cattle in. Still there are others who would like to continue to feed but they see the efforts put forth against the meat combine, the object of which is to lower the price of meat to the consumer. They see nothing from this but the lowering of the market to the producer. They know that to sell now will incur a loss, but they feel satisfied that to continue to feed with a lowering market would be to face a greater loss still, so they, too, send their stuff to market in the shape it may now be in. So we have increased demand for money, higher rates of interest, disappointment in the feeding value of soft, chaffy corn and lack of confidence in the markets for a few months hence. But there is another class of feeders who reason differently. They see, or think they see, fewer cattle on feed than usual, and these being rapidly becoming fewer. The whole continent of Australia, which has in the past furnished a large supply of meat to the European market, is now short on home supply, leaving the market they formerly filled to be supplied from somewhere else. Never in the history of this country has the working class been so generally employed and at so good wages. The ability of the laboring class to live well was never greater. This should make an increased consumption of meats as well as the other foodstuffs and also a demand for clothing. The home demand that should have the most effect on our markets should be the very best. And those of us who hold these opinions are satisfied to hold our cattle and feed to a finish, and all we ask for is that we get a fair deal, an honest market under the conditions as they exist, and feel satisfied we will not then have labored for nothing.—David Brown, Dodge County, Nebraska.

Thos. H. Mills, St. Clair county, Michigan: Prices for poultry and poultry products have been higher this winter than in previous winters. The cost of feeding poultry has been about the same as in previous winters. Wheat is from 60 to 70 cents per bushel and oats from 25 to 35 cents per bushel. Eggs sell for 25 cents per dozen. Dressed chickens at 13 cents per pound.

I. W. Hutton, Linn county, Iowa: Prices for poultry and eggs have been higher this year than for a good many years, and those having poultry for sale must have made a profit on the feed consumed, as feed has not been as high as it was last year. Corn is worth 40c, wheat 65c, oats 25c, good chickens 11 to 12c, turkeys 14 to 15c, and hard to get, eggs at 22c.

C. P. Gundlach, Logan county, Illinois: Prices for poultry have been higher this season than at any previous time, while poultry feed has cost little more than usual. Feed costs: Corn, 35c; oats, 32c; wheat, 68c per bushel. Eggs are selling at 23 cents; spring chickens 12 cents per pound, hens at 9 to 10 cents.

W. A. Doolittle, Nemaha county, Kansas: Prices for poultry products have been better than usual, and feed has cost very little more. Wheat is 60c, corn 35c, oats 30c. Vegetables are very cheap. Eggs are selling at 15 to 20c per dozen, and live poultry at 8 to 9c a pound.—Farmers' Review.

Objects in Poultry Breeding.

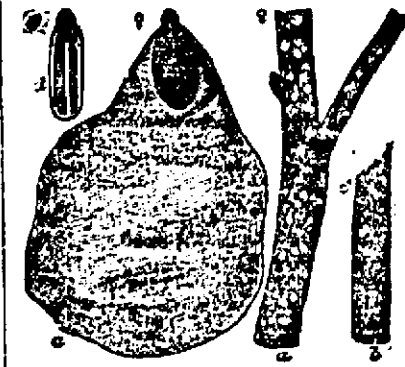

Mr. Fred L. Kimmey, one of the best known poultry raisers, says that poultry is being bred almost exclusively for form and feather. He intimates that it should be more in the direction of egg production and of the supplying of meat for the table. In a farmer's institute held recently in Cook county, Illinois, Mr. Kimmey recited facts relating to the great prices sometimes obtained for high-class show birds. These high prices were due, he said, to the desire to take prizes at shows and not to the desire to produce birds that would prove great layers.

It seems to the writer that the benefit arising from the holding of shows is thus largely neutralized. The score cards are made presumably with the idea of improving birds as to egg laying qualities and meat producing qualities. As long as form and feather are the objects sought, the poultry shows will fail to stimulate breeding for really valuable points. We hope to see some movement before long in the direction of greater capacity to produce eggs and flesh suitable for table use. The latter object comes nearer to being attained than the other, even at this time, for in the making up of the score cards the birds with large quantities of meat on the breast are favored. But the egg producing capacity is a thing that is not so easily included in the examination of a bird for a prize. Poultry fanciers tell us that a bird that lays many eggs loses form to such an extent that prizes are lost for that and no other reason.

HORTICULTURE

Destroying Two Common Orchard Scales.

At the last meeting of the Illinois Horticultural Society, S. A. Forbes, state entomologist, said: The two common orchard scales—the scurfy scale and the oyster-shell—have been regarded as difficult insects to destroy. They winter in the egg, each scale on the tree in winter having beneath it a collection of these eggs,—marrowed for the scurfy scale and yellowish or whitish for the oyster-shell,—which were laid there by the female in fall, she afterwards perishing and drying up beneath the scale, which continues as a protection for the eggs. These insects are two-brooded in our latitude, the first hatching early in May and the second mostly in July. We have no practical means of killing the eggs. Indeed, insects' eggs can rarely if ever be destroyed by chemical applications which will not injure the tree. These scales are more susceptible to insecticides while very young than at any other time, and consequently applications intended to destroy them directly may best be made during the first week or two of May, or, in more northerly latitudes, late in May and early in June. Used at this time they must, of course, be harmless to foliage and fruit—a fact which limits us practically for these insects to applications of kerosene mixtures of low percentage. An ordinary kerosene emulsion diluted to contain ten per cent of the oil is the mixture usually recommended. There is a very good reason to believe, however, that the California wash of lime, salt, and sulphur, applied in late winter, will effect this purpose even more certainly although more slowly.

Scurfy scale: a twig infested with female scales; b, twig with male scales; c, female scale; d, male scale—much enlarged.

Growth Habit of a Tree.

Prof. E. S. Goff: In the first place, we have the root system which absorbs water from the ground and brings this water together at the base of the trunk and transmits it to the trunk. The roots have an absorptive system of their own and their nature is to draw in water with more or less vigor. Then when the water is taken to the trunk, the fibers of the trunk tend to lift the water by capillarity, and the buds above are not only expanding the water above, but they are filled with protoplasm which has an affinity for water, and so we have a force that draws the water from the roots into the top. It is a principle well known in physics that when water passes through a tube it will pass with more force through a straight tube than it will through a crooked tube, and that every bend we make in the tube would reduce the force to that extent. It follows that the buds of an apple tree, or any other tree, that are in the most direct communication with the axis of growth, with the trunk, are the ones that will receive the most water. Every time the branch grows, that branch does not receive quite as much water as the branch before it turns, and if that branch subdivides, the secondary branch receives less than the primary branch, and so on, the more it branches the less water it receives, and the less vigor it has and the less it grows; it is this principle that determines the form of the tree. You know, as the tree tends to grow upright, the terminal buds receive more water than any other buds, because they are in the most direct line with the source of water; every branch that grows loses somewhat in vigor. By and by, when the tree attains a height so great that the distance from the roots is so great that it over balances the fact that the terminal buds are in direct communication with the axis of the vigor, the uppermost branches will dominate, and after a time the tree will come to an equilibrium, the branches will grow just as much as the terminal shoots, and we will have a full grown, developed tree.

Some men will believe nothing but what they can comprehend; and there are but few things that such are able to comprehend.—Evenden.

THE CAUSE AND CURE OF DISEASE EXPLAINED

THE ONE CAUSE

Nature originates and destroys. The destructive process begins with the fermentation and decay of blood corpuscles.

The cause of this fermentation is from Bacteria or microbes in the system.

The fermentation does not take place without air, heat and moisture—for the germs or microbes are living organisms, that multiply in myriads with great rapidity.

These microbes when fully developed, colonize in great numbers and attack the various vital organs of the body by feeding on the tissues thus producing inflammation which is sickness.

If there were no microbes there would be no fermentation, hence there would be no sickness; life would continue indefinitely; suffering brought about by ill-health would cease and the processes of nature would stagnate.

To this law man is no exception, and in it is the secret cause of all disease.

No sickness can come on without microbes in the blood.

THE UNIVERSAL CAUSE OF DISEASE IS MICROBES WHICH PILLAGE AND DESTROY.

THE ONE CURE

As the cause of all diseases is conclusively proven by every authority to be fermentation in the blood, produced by germs and microbes, common sense dictates that if the microbes were destroyed the cause would be removed.

The only known principle powerful enough to destroy the microbe in the blood, yet harmless as water to the tissues, was discovered by the learned scientist and microscopist, Prof. Wm. Radam. Its peculiar character is that of a true antiseptic and germicide, and its fame is world-wide under the name of "Radam's Microbe Killer."

It has withstood the most critical scientific examinations and is endorsed by every eminent medical authority.

As all disease originates from the same source, microbes Radam's Microbe Killer prevents and cures EVERY DISEASE by destroying Bacteria the organic life that causes fermentation and decay of blood corpuscles. Kills the germs, and nature, through rich, red blood, kills the disease.

THE UNIVERSAL CURE FOR DISEASE IS TO KILL THE MICROBES WHICH PRODUCE IT.

DEATH FOLLOWS WAKE OF RACERS

MACHINES COLLIDE AND BURN

Owners and Chauffeurs are Thrown From Vehicles and Severely Injured or Killed—American Is Cremated by Bursting of Gasoline Tank.

Paris, May 25.—Death and disaster attended the first stage of the automobile race from Paris to Madrid, and it has been abandoned.

Premier Combes has issued an order forbidding the continuance of the contest on French territory and the Spanish government has forbidden the racers to cross the frontier.

The first stage of the race, from Versailles to Bordeaux, 343 miles, cost the lives of at least eight persons, and the injury of several others. Two soldiers, two men, one woman, and a child were killed on the road. One chauffeur was burned to death beneath the wreckage of his machine and another was killed outright.

Many Disasters. Marcel Renault, winner of the Paris-Vienna race last year, is believed to be dying from his injuries.

Lorraine Barrows, one of the best known automobilists of France, was fatally injured.

Messrs. Porter and Stead were seriously hurt by the wrecking of their machines and fears for the recovery of both are entertained.

There were many other casualties of a less serious nature.

Collides with Tree. Marcel Renault was injured at Coupe, twenty-one miles from Poitiers. He was compelled to turn his machine abruptly into a ditch in order to avoid a locked level crossing. In so doing he collided with a tree. Renault was thrown to the ground with great force and was unconscious when picked up and carried to a nearby farmhouse. His chauffeur was so seriously injured that his life is despaired of.

Chauffeur Is Killed. Lorraine Barrows met with his disaster near Libourne, seventeen miles from Bordeaux. It appears that Mr. Barrows had tried to avoid a dog which was crossing the track, and his monster car, No. 5 in the race, struck a tree with terrific force. His chauffeur was killed outright. Barrows himself was picked up unconscious, but still breathing, and was taken to a hospital, where his condition was declared to be critical. His car was dashed to pieces.

Spectators Are Slain. Two miles from Angoulême a car driven at a high rate of speed by M. Tourand swerved from the roadway and dashed into a group of spectators. It was here that the greatest loss of life occurred. The car was wrecked, and two soldiers, a child and M. Tourand's machinist were killed. M. Tourand himself was seriously hurt.

American Is Burned. Another terrible accident occurred near Bonnaville, nineteen miles from Chartres, where an automobilist, L. Porter, said to be an American, met a shocking death. His car was overturned while crossing the Paris-Tours railroad track. The broken gasoline reservoir spread its contents over the demolished car and the wreckage instantly caught fire. Mr. Porter was planed beneath the debris, and he burned to death before assistance could reach him.

Machines Collide. Near Arreyres Mr. Stead and another competitor collided, and both men, with their machinists, seriously injured. They had been racing wheel to wheel, and both machines went into the ditch together. Mr. Stead was caught under the machine, while his chauffeur was hurled thirty feet and had his head and body badly hurt. Mr. Stead was conscious when he was picked up, but complained of suffering great pain. He was conveyed to the nearest farm.

Woman Is Run Down. Near Angoulême a machine was overturned and its two occupants seriously hurt. Two spectators were killed.

A woman was killed near Ables while trying to cross the road ahead of one of the racing machines.

HUNDREDS LOSE HOMES AT ENID COMES WHILE CITIZENS SLEEP

Houses are Submerged and Carried Away by the Rush of Waters—Many Families See All their Property Swallowed in the Torrent.

Enid, Okla., May 25.—Hundreds of persons were rendered homeless and property damage estimated at $300,000 was done in the Enid bottoms by a cloudburst that struck west of this city.

A bank of water 3 feet high and 200 feet wide swept down through the bottoms carrying houses and everything before it. It came upon Enid without warning while most of its citizens were asleep.

Within a few minutes a hundred houses were partly or completely submerged. Rescuers worked all night saving persons from perilous positions and aiding those driven from their homes. Many had lost everything they possessed. The citizens are busily engaged relieving the distress, but the means at hand are inadequate. The rainfall for ten days has been the heaviest in the history of Oklahoma, and indications are that more will follow.

Three Are Killed. Guthrie, Okla., May 25.—A tornado struck Foss, a town of 200 inhabitants on the Choctaw, Oklahoma and Gulf railway in western Oklahoma, killing three persons and injuring many more. One, R. P. Hall, is seriously hurt. The dead are F. M. Slagel, wife, and daughter. Their ten houses were destroyed.

The cloudburst reported at Yukon, eighteen miles west of here, completely inundated the Canadian valley, causing great damage to crops and stock. No lives are reported lost.

Lightning Is Fatal. Pittsburg, Pa., May 25.—Milton W. Robinson, a resident of West Pittsburg, was killed by lightning in Schenley park. When the storm came up Robinson sought shelter under a tree. He had been there but a moment when lightning struck the tree, tearing it to pieces and killing Robinson instantly. Robinson's friends, who were within twenty-five feet of him at the time, escaped without even a shock.

At Bradock lightning struck a street car on the McKeesport branch of the Pittsburg railway company and caused a panic among the passengers, many of the men jumping from the car as it sped down the hill.

Three of them were badly bruised, and Christopher O'Tools, who fell on his head, is perhaps fatally hurt. The women passengers tried to jump, but were prevented by some of the cooler headed among the men.

Central Illinois Cyclone. Bloomington, Ill., May 25.—A terrifying cyclone visited central Illinois, blowing over barns and other small buildings. No lives were lost, but the damage will aggregate many thousands of dollars. The greatest damage was reported in northern McLean county. At Carlock two grain elevators were blown over and destroyed. The breaking of trolley wires made the street car systems in this city imperative for part of the day. Both telephone systems suffered heavily. The rain will prove of incalculable value to crops.

Has Narrow Escape. Marshall, Mich., May 25.—An Italian laborer, who was blown away in the cyclone, had a miraculous escape from death. He was drawn up into the air and carried several hundred feet, when he was thrown heavily to the ground and became unconscious. When he came to it was dark. He found his way back to town.

One Death Near Springfield. Springfield, Ill., May 25.—Raymond Morrison, aged 19, a son of William B. Morrison, residing one mile west of Curren, was struck by lightning and instantly killed at his home. The lightning passed through the house and set fire to the building, but the flames were extinguished by members of the household.

Convent for Princess. Vienna, May 25.—Princess Louise of Tuscany, formerly crown princess of Saxony, has asked the emperor for permission to reside in Austria. His majesty has given his consent on the condition that she shall reside in a convent.

Turks Slaughter Macedonians. Sofia, May 25.—Turks have burned the village of Banitz, near Seres. Only forty-eight of the 500 inhabitants escaped. Many women and girls were outraged and murdered and their bodies cast into the water.

Consul Is Dismissed. Copenhagen, May 25.—At the demand of General Bobrikoff, the governor general of Finland, M. Savon, the Swedish consul at Nystad, Finland, has been dismissed for participation in the anti-Russian agitation.

Many Baptized in the Wabash. Vincennes, Ind., May 25.—The baptizing of twenty candidates in the Wabash river was witnessed by 1,000 people. Rev. Gideon Everett baptized while a chorus of 100 voices sang.

New York's Municipal Employees. The number of employees in the New York municipal service has reached 45,299, of whom 12,000 are teachers and 10,000 members of the police and fire departments.

Emperor Menelik's Hobby.

The Emperor Menelik of Abyssinia, among his other hobbies, takes great interest in clocks and several chronometers have recently been imported from Switzerland by his Swiss adviser, which vary no more than six seconds in two months. Ras Makonnen has also ordered several curious mechanical clocks from Swiss firms for presentation to the negus and the empress. The most remarkable of these is a great chiming clock to imitate that of St. Margaret's, Westminster Abbey.

Increase in Judges' Salaries.

Judge Shiras, who has just retired as a justice of the Supreme court, gains $2,500 a year by the passage of the bill increasing the salaries of the members of that tribunal. He wished to retire some months ago, but the death of Justice Gray delayed the acceptance of his resignation. Meantime the increase of salary became effective and he will receive $12,500 a year during the remainder of his life.

Poor Country for Scorchers.

The Monaco authorities are making a rich bag out of alleged automobile scorchers in their "kingdom." There are no half measures—the cars are stopped, the occupants rushed off to the Commissaire de Police, who, after hearing the charge, briefly remarks, "One thousand francs," and the money has to be paid before the victims are set free. Six cases of this kind in one day occurred at Monte Carlo recently.

Still Harping on the Bean Pot.

Boston's coal club, formed to buy coal straight from the mines and ruin the retail dealers who have grown too hoarse for endurance, occasions the rumor that a bean club is to follow. The abolition of the middleman proceeds apace, and the trust problem deepens. How will government deal with an organization of 800,000 people determined on reducing the cost of beans?—Brooklyn Eagle.

To Settle Point of Interest.

The New England Historical-Geological Society has appointed a committee to ascertain if possible, the exact place of rendezvous of the Boston tea party when it assembled, Dec. 16, 1773, preliminary to throwing the tea into Boston harbor. The stories of the place handed down by tradition have been conflicting, and many of the members of the society think the effort will be in vain.

Mummy Flowers.

The remains of no fewer than fifty-nine species of flowering plants from mummy wrappings in Egypt have been identified. The flowers have been wonderfully preserved, even the delicate violet color of the larkspur, the scarlet of the poppy and the chlorophyll in the leaves remaining.

Fatalism of Indians.

In his childhood days Senator Morgan of Alabama, played a great deal with the children of Cherokee braves. While making a speech about Indians in the senate last week he told in simple but most affecting fashion how he and Arkechee, one of his red-skinned playmates, went blackberrying. The Indian boy was bitten by a rattlesnake and died. None of the Indians thought the reptile hated Arkechee, who was bitten, they declared, because the Great Spirit wanted him.

Depew Tells Old Joke.

A visitor in Washington heard Senator Depew deliver a speech the other day. The New York statesman made a joke about pressing the hand of a fair Mormon widow, the widow numbering seventeen. The remark provoked a good deal of laughter, but it sounded familiar to the man in the gallery. Later he found that Mr. Depew had borrowed the joke from a skit written by Artemus Ward some forty or fifty years ago.
